

THE REFORMATION

OBSERVING 500 YEARS

Spreading the Message:

Artwork

Lutheran churches across the countryside are full of windows, woodwork, and paintings telling the stories of Scripture. Luther recognized the importance of artwork in helping to reinforce the stories of the Bible. While he cautioned against worshiping the statues and paintings themselves, he did understand the helpful role they played in telling God's story. Much like illustrations in a book help people visualize and remember what they're reading about, artwork in a church tells the same stories in a different way. In Luther's time, many people couldn't read or write so artwork was an especially helpful way to tell the story of God; but it can be just as helpful today in communicating God's Gospel.

To learn more about Luther, watch the Reformation 500 video series at lutherhouseofstudy.org or subscribe to Luther House's YouTube channel.

LUTHER HOUSE OF STUDY
LUTHERHOUSEOFSTUDY.ORG

THE REFORMATION

OBSERVING 500 YEARS

Spreading the Message:

Artwork

Lutheran churches across the countryside are full of windows, woodwork, and paintings telling the stories of Scripture. Luther recognized the importance of artwork in helping to reinforce the stories of the Bible. While he cautioned against worshiping the statues and paintings themselves, he did understand the helpful role they played in telling God's story. Much like illustrations in a book help people visualize and remember what they're reading about, artwork in a church tells the same stories in a different way. In Luther's time, many people couldn't read or write so artwork was an especially helpful way to tell the story of God; but it can be just as helpful today in communicating God's Gospel.

To learn more about Luther, watch the Reformation 500 video series at lutherhouseofstudy.org or subscribe to Luther House's YouTube channel.

LUTHER HOUSE OF STUDY
LUTHERHOUSEOFSTUDY.ORG