

THE REFORMATION

OBSERVING 500 YEARS

Week 1:

Two Kinds of Righteousness

What makes a Christian righteous? Luther's answer to this question remains one of the things that most surprises people. Luther concluded that there are two kinds of righteousness: One concerns your relationship with God, and the other concerns your relationship with everyone else. As if that weren't enough, Luther also understood that these two kinds of righteousness are completely separate, with no gray area in between. To learn more about the two kinds of righteousness, watch the video at lutherhouseofstudy.org.

LUTHER HOUSE OF STUDY
LUTHERHOUSEOFSTUDY.ORG

THE REFORMATION

OBSERVING 500 YEARS

Week 1:

Two Kinds of Righteousness

What makes a Christian righteous? Luther's answer to this question remains one of the things that most surprises people. Luther concluded that there are two kinds of righteousness: One concerns your relationship with God, and the other concerns your relationship with everyone else. As if that weren't enough, Luther also understood that these two kinds of righteousness are completely separate, with no gray area in between. To learn more about the two kinds of righteousness, watch the video at lutherhouseofstudy.org.

LUTHER HOUSE OF STUDY
LUTHERHOUSEOFSTUDY.ORG