

THE REFORMATION

OBSERVING 500 YEARS

Week 2:

Means of Grace: The Lord's Supper

Eight years after posting the 95 Theses, Martin Luther engaged in a debate that would help distinguish what Lutherans understand is happening in the Lord's Supper as compared to Roman Catholics and other Protestant denominations. Lutherans believe that when you take and eat the bread and wine you are eating the body and blood of Jesus. Luther's understanding of the Lord's Supper is at the heart of what Lutherans believe to be important about worship. It is also why there remains a stark difference between those who follow in Luther's footsteps and our Roman Catholic and other Protestant counterparts.

To learn more about Baptism, watch the video at lutherhouseofstudy.org.

LUTHER HOUSE OF STUDY
LUTHERHOUSEOFSTUDY.ORG

THE REFORMATION

OBSERVING 500 YEARS

Week 2:

Means of Grace: The Lord's Supper

Eight years after posting the 95 Theses, Martin Luther engaged in a debate that would help distinguish what Lutherans understand is happening in the Lord's Supper as compared to Roman Catholics and other Protestant denominations. Lutherans believe that when you take and eat the bread and wine you are eating the body and blood of Jesus. Luther's understanding of the Lord's Supper is at the heart of what Lutherans believe to be important about worship. It is also why there remains a stark difference between those who follow in Luther's footsteps and our Roman Catholic and other Protestant counterparts.

To learn more about Baptism, watch the video at lutherhouseofstudy.org.

LUTHER HOUSE OF STUDY
LUTHERHOUSEOFSTUDY.ORG